INTERPRETYPE - THE CONVERSATION PIECE

Interpretype is an interactive communication device that provides a means of communicating without using speech. It was designed as a tool to connect the non-signing hearing community with the Deaf, Hard of Hearing and Speech disabled community. Since it is a typing device, there are no additional skills needed other than the ability to type and understand a common written language. Interpretype consists of two pre-programmed laptop style computer devices. Each device has the ability to send and display typed messages to the other device. Once you log on, you have the ability to have a conversation by simply reading and typing. User friendly. Customer friendly. Deaf friendly. Interpretype was designed to aid in face-to-face communication. Each device is smaller than a standard laptop computer yet utilizes a full size keyboard for speed and accuracy in typing. The screen is relatively small and has a low profile that enables users to maintain eye contact for a more personal interaction. Interpretype is configured to communicate through a single cable and can be powered by batteries if desired. Includes the following: Two units of Interpretype; One ITY straight cable; Two ITY to PC cables; AC adapter; 8 AA batteries (optional rechargeable batteries available); One 5"x7" window decal; One counter display sign; User's Manual; The Deaf-Friendly toolkit; One year manufacturer free upgrades; One year manufacturer limited warranty. 2 years limited warranty available (optional) at $50.00

Typical Home Diagram

The illustration below shows how a typical house can be equipped with a variety of Sonic Alert Signalers and Remote Receivers. Each of these signalers can be used by itself to alert you to a single sound, such as a telephone, or they can be combined together to alert you to all of the sounds around your home.

Our economy signalers are designed to flash a light in just one room, while other models allow you to expand your system by adding remote receivers to flash lights in multiple rooms.

How Sonic Alert Signalers Work

We offer a series of signalers that monitor your doorbell, telephone, baby, alarm clock, etc. When any of these sounds are detected, the signaler flashes a light plugged into it. Sonic Alert signalers send a signal through your home's entire electrical system to a series of remote receivers that can be plugged in any room of your home. When the remote receivers receive a signal from any of the signalers, they flash a light with the same flashing pattern as the original signaler. This way you will always know what sound was detected by your Sonic Alert signalers.

Installs as easy as 1-2-3

Sonic Alert products are designed so that anyone can install them in minutes. Most of our products simply plug in and are ready to use with no controls to adjust. They work by remote through your home's electrical system so you do not have to run wires from room to room.

Only Sonic Alert has a full range of products that provide the flexibility and performance to meet the needs of every customer.

Sonic Alert's Commitment

Little things mean a lot: A visit or call from family or friends, or feeling safe in your own home. For 27 years, Sonic Alert has provided peace of mind by keeping you in touch with the world around you.

With a visual alerting system from Sonic Alert, you'll never miss the doorbell, a telephone call, your alarm clock, or your baby's cry. At Sonic Alert, we are dedicated to providing you with reliable, economical, and easy-to-use products. All products are UL listed for your safety.

Frequently Asked Questions

How can Sonic Alert's Visual Alerting Systems help me?

Sonic Alert's products are designed to help people with impaired hearing stay in touch with the world around them. This is done by flashing lights around your home or office to let you know that your telephone or doorbell is ringing, your baby is crying, your alarm clock has gone off, and so forth. We also have a bed vibrator that will shake your bed to wake you up if flashing lights do not work for you. Each sound will produce a different flashing pattern so you will always know why the lights are flashing.

Sonic Alert products are designed so that anyone can install them in minutes.

Many Sonic Alert products have been in continuous operation for over 27 years helping families just like yours.

Do I need to buy special lights?

You can use the lamps that you already have in your home. You just plug them into the outlets on our products and your new system is ready to use!

Can I buy a few products now and add more later?

Yes! Only buy the signalers that you need now, and you can add more as your needs grow. Remember that you can have as many signalers and remote receivers as you need. And you can just unplug them and take them with you when you move.

How do I know your products will really work for me?

Sonic Alert is confident that our nationwide network of dealers and distributors will help you select the right products for your needs. To back this up, we offer a 30-day money back guarantee. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied with your Sonic Alert signalers, you can return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. All Sonic Alert products are also covered by a five year warranty against manufacturing defects in materials and workmanship.

Sonic Alert products will give you and your family the peace of mind they deserve.

You have many new products. Will they work with my existing Sonic Alert Products?

Yes! All products made by Sonic Alert over the last 27 years will work with today's new products. This is our commitment to our customers.

PERSONAL FM SYSTEMS PFM300E/350E

Too often, students with hearing difficulties have the challenge of learning compounded by background noise. To help, Williams Sound developed the HEARING HELPER Personal FM System.

How It Works: These Personal FM Systems are designed to broadcast the teacher's voice directly to the ears of individual students.

While the teacher wears a compact transmitter and microphone, students use portable receivers and earphones to hear the teacher clearly and easily, even from the back of the classroom.

Easy To Setup & Use: The PFM 300E and PFM 350E systems operate on 2 AA batteries and include the PFM T30 Transmitter and portable receiver. The PFM 350E's portable receiver includes an environmental microphone. Both systems operate over a range of 150 feet and for about 10 hours per charge. The T30 Transmitter and R31 and R32 receivers are field-tuneable over 10 wideband channels.

Hearing Aid Use: Receivers can be used with a hearing aid, single or dual earphone, headphones, or custom earmold drivers to suit a wide range of hearing losses. An optional neckloop tele-coil coupler is available for use with telecoil-equipped hearing aids.

AT-216 WIRELESS AUDITORY ASSISTANCE KIT

The AT-216 system functions as a remote microphone for the user, overcoming the greatest listening problems for those with impaired hearing: high levels of background noise, reverberation effects, and distance between the speaker and listener. In addition to hearing aids, the user wears the personal receiver and neck-loop. The PR-216 personal receiver picks up the voice of the person wearing the M-216 transmitter, and the neck-loop then retransmits it to hearing aids with a "T" switch (telecoil pick-up) for close-up sound. If hearing aids are not used, the receiver may also be used with headphones in place of the neck-loop. Now the person with impaired hearing has a direct link to the speaker at greater distances for improved listening, clarity, and better understanding. System includes: One M-216 wireless microphone transmitter, one SM-183 omnidirectional lapel microphone, one PR-216 personal receiver, one NTC-102 neck-loop transducer, one SM-N earphone assembly, one NBC 9-2C battery charger, one TM-10 adapter, two Ni-MH rechargeable batteries, one CB-36 ST auxiliary audio input cable, and one C-216 carrying case. Call to add on optional accessories.

CMAT-216.....$1050.00

CONFERENCE TABLE MICROPHONE ADAPTER

The TM-10 conference table microphone adapter adds a whole new dimension to the versatile AT-216 personal assistive listening system. Simply inserting the clip-on lapel microphone included with the AT-216 into the TM-10 transforms the microphone into a table-top conference microphone, adding even more functionality to the system. Using the TM-10 allows the microphone to function as an acoustically tailored "boundary-type" microphone by using the reflective surface of a table or desk as the boundary area that the microphone picks up. This allows the user to hear everyone sitting around the table, eliminating the need to pass around a microphone. The TM-10 has been specially designed to maximize the high fidelity performance of the AT-216 personal assistive listening system by emphasizing the frequencies that enhance speech clarity.

METAPHOR IN AMERICAN SIGN LANGUAGE

by Phyllis Perrin Wilcox.

Only recently have linguists ceased to regard metaphors as mere frills on the periphery of language and begun to recognize them as cornerstones of discourse. Phyllis Wilcox takes this innovation one step further in her fascinating study of metaphors in American Sign Language. Wilcox concludes her study with a close analysis of the ASL poem, "The Dogs," by Ella Mae Lentz. In presenting Deaf Americans', Deaf Germans', and Deaf Italians' reactions to the poem, Wilcox manages not only to demonstrate the influence of culture upon metaphors, but also to illuminate the sources of sociopolitical division within the American Deaf community.

CHALLENGE TO CHASTITY

Teaching biblical values about sex to teenagers is never easy. The media, their friends and the example of adults are often telling young people that sex before marriage, or outside of marriage, is OK.—Even a good thing to do. Molly Kelly, A mother of eight and an authority on teenage sexuality, talks about this important subject in this 47-minute video. In a speech before a group of high school students, Mrs. Kelly talk clearly about the importance of saving sex for one's wife or husband. She respectfully, yet humorously, shares the medical—reasons for chastity (sex purity). The video is interpreted in sign language by DeAnn Sampley (large corner inset). THE BIBLE: ASL TRANSLATION

The bible: ASL translation of its kind especially for deaf people. Now deaf people in the United States, Canada and other countries where ASL is understood have a translation in their first language – American Sign Language. Teams of ASL translators and original language consultants are working to produce a translation that is accurate, understandable and faithful to the original Hebrew and Greek texts of the bible. Some of the many helpful features of this translation include: sharp, colorful close-ups of the skilled asl signer, on-screen chapter and verse indexes for easy selection of biblical passages; and helpful graphics, notes, map and illustrations. Millions deaf people can now read and understand the bible for themselves. And that 's good news!

Please notes that some of the earlier translations use pidgin signed english (pse). Signing styles and signers are noted. Videotapes marked with * do not have an English voice over.

THE TIME TIMER

An innovative new teaching aid aimed toward the time education of young children. It creates a greater awareness of elapsed time. Its concept is to visualize elapsed time in a more dramatic display than the familiar clocks. High color contrast makes it possible to know the remaining time without the need to focus on, or understand, the hands or numbers of the traditional clock face. It gives the child a chance to know what elapsed time looks or feels like. To set the timer move the hand to desired time interval. The red disc will diminish as time elapses until no red visible on the timer face and the hand is at 0. Time will elapse until the 60 minutes are up. Operates on one AA batteries (not included).
